

THE American Surveyor

A For

Vol. 7, Issue 2

Lasting Images

Degree Confluence Project

Get to the point!

Adopting Technology

Robotics advance

Geospatial Ed

A new discipline

Leica Viva

GNSS

SmartRover

www.allenprecision.com • 800-241-6223

Survey crew in their "Sunday best" at camp.

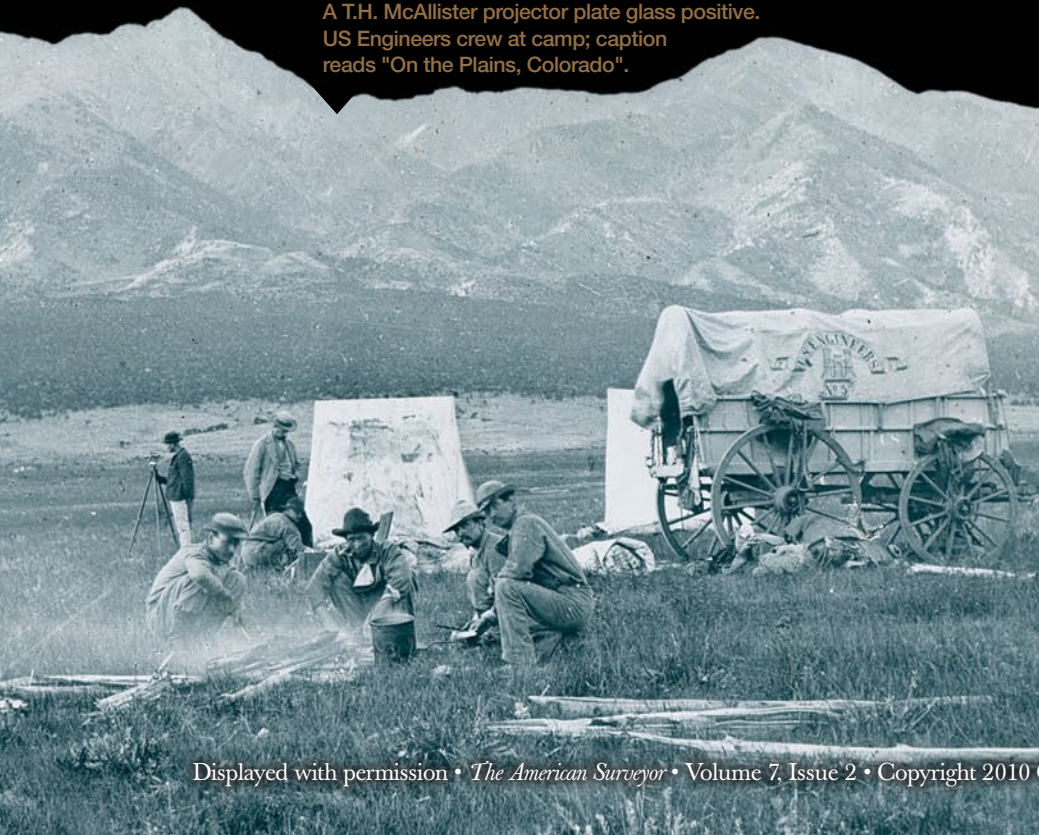

Possibly a USC&GS survey crew at camp.

SURVEYORS IN

Bryant Sturgess is a licensed surveyor and civil engineer in California. He was Chief Surveyor for the State Lands Commission under François (Bud) Uzes and Roy Minnick. Now retired after 38 years service he continues to the present as a water boundary consultant for the California State Lands Commission and the State Attorney General's Office. He has a keen interest in California history and is an avid collector of related Coast Survey maps and reports, 19th and 20th century

A T.H. McAllister projector plate glass positive. US Engineers crew at camp; caption reads "On the Plains, Colorado".

USGS topographers.

USC&GS crew setting a monument.

HISTORY

surveying photos, and has an extensive surveying reference library. Note: Some of the images first appeared in the California Surveyor, #150, Spring 2007. Unless specified, dates and locations are unknown. How many of you have a dog on your crew?

Cadastral crew at work. Postcard caption reads, "Engineering in the Sierras" and is dated 1910. Mailed from Eureka, CA.

Railroad construction crew.

Engineering students at work. The CYK stamp block on the postcard indicates the date to be early 1900s.

SURVEYORS IN

A woman at the gun. Velox stamp block on the postcard indicates the date to be between 1908 and 1910.

Manistee, Michigan studio photo of survey crew posed in "Sunday best". Image dated 1880 to 1890.

Students in training (note knickers) with plane table and alidade;.

Survey crew in their "Sunday best"; style of clothing dates the image from late 1800s to early 1900s.

HISTORY

Engineering students and faculty. Thought to be on the campus of the University of Washington, circa 1920.

